

JUMBULDED SENTENCES

QUE 1- Rearrange the following six sentences (A),(B),(C),(D),(E) and (F) in the proper sequence to form a meaningful paragraph; then answer the questions given below them.

- (A) Nobody likes to practice it, no matter how easy and how beneficial it is.
- (B) An ounce of patience is worth, or at times even better than, a pound of brains.
- (C) Patience, a virtue, is considered to be even better than wisdom.
- (D) This is the worst drawback in us, in our national character.
- (E) Every one of us agrees with this fast in principle, without reservation.
- (F) But, unfortunately, when it comes to practicing patience, there is a problem.

Answer:-

Que 2 -Rearrange the following six sentences (A),(B),(C),(D),(E) and (F) in the proper sequence to form a meaningful paragraph; then answer the questions given below them.

- A) So, the next day when the birds had flown off to look for food, the bird catcher spread his net under the tree.
- (B) One day a bird catcher wandering through the forest came upon a banyan tree where a flock. of pigeons rested.
- (C) But as they were very clever, they flapped their wings together, lifted the net off the ground and flew away with it.
- (D) He knew that if he managed to catch even half the pigeons, he would be able to sell them in the market for a very good price.
- (E) To their shock, they all realized that they had landed right into the net that the bird catcher had set for them.
- (F) That evening when the pigeons came back, they flew down together to the foot of the banyan tree.

Que 3- These sentences, when properly sequenced, form a coherent paragraph. Arrange them in proper order and answer the questions that follow.

- A. As the nation celebrated the success of the Mars mission, and the greater promise it meant for future space exploration, there was another outcome, perhaps unforeseen, that had unfolded.
- B. The success of ISRO's Mars Orbiter Mission has triggered an interest in space science among children.
- C. "Why are we going to Mars? Isn't Venus closer to us?" asked 12-year-old Sneha to her science teacher.
- D. In the recent past, few events from the world of science have captured public imagination so much as MOM.
- E. That one question lead to a discussion on why Mars is an interesting destination; why it becomes easier to launch a probe to a planet outside of Earth's orbit...?
- F. Much before MOM went into orbit, children across schools had started their own pet explorations of the red planet.

Que 4 -These sentences, when properly sequenced, form a coherent paragraph. Arrange them in proper order and answer the questions that follow.

- A. and whose accumulation in the Earth's atmosphere causes global warming
- B. given the urgency, an accelerated shift from patterns of economic activity based on fossil fuels
- C. It is the burning of carbon-based fossil fuels - coal, oil and gas - that is chiefly responsible for generating greenhouse gases,
- D. to those based on renewable and clean sources of energy, climate change will continue to intensify.
- E. Climate change and energy are two sides of the same coin.
- F. Therefore, it follows that unless the world as a whole undertakes a strategic and,

Que 5 - These sentences, when properly sequenced, form a coherent paragraph. Arrange them in proper order and answer the questions that follow.

- A. It is well on the way of becoming a part of our daily life, like the radio.

- B. One can view the entire world brought at the foot.
- C. At the specified time, the whole family may sit around it and enjoy it.
- D. Its great advantage is that after a hard day's toil one can enjoy it at home, sitting closely on the easy chair.
- E. If was too costly for many of us, but in course of time, it has come handy for many.
- F. Like many, a dream, Television, i.e. seeing object from a distance, is now a reality.

Que 6 -These sentences, when properly sequenced, form a coherent paragraph. Arrange them in proper order and answer the questions that follow.

- A. But how much above 5 per cent will it clock still remains a matter of interpretation.
- B. But in a welcome development, the global institutions, along with a fair number of other agencies, believe that 2015-16 will see the economy climbing even higher to above 6 per cent.
- C. Amid wide expectations that the Indian economy is on the mend, an analysis of the various economic data that are released periodically assume plenty of importance.
- D. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) and the World Bank have estimated the Indian economy to grow at around 5.4 per cent this year.
- E. That the economy will finally break out of the sub-5 per cent growth phase during this current fiscal seems certain.
- F. Forecasts of growth have varied from 5 per cent to almost 6 per cent with the Reserve Bank of India sticking to 5.5 per cent while many private forecasters are estimating slightly lower rates of growth.

Que 7- Rearrange the following six sentences (A), (B),(C),(D),(E) and (F) in the proper sequence to form a meaningful paragraph; then answers the questions given below them.

- A. The obvious incentive then, for any country, is place a limited and costless proposal on the table.
- B. there are two counter pressures: from strong domestic constituencies for aggressive climate action;
- C. For each country to self-determine its natural contribution is a curious approach.
- D. Even if there was such a benchmark, whether contributions will be reviewed at the international level is an open question, and the subject of heated negotiation.
- E. and, more salient for India, international pressure through naming and shaming.
- F. Currently, there is no international benchmark of what counts as sufficient climate action

Que 8 - Rearrange the following six sentences (A), (B),(C),(D),(E) and (F) in the proper sequence to form a meaningful paragraph; then answers the questions given below them.

- A.The economic loss is only secondary to the human suffering, but is also substantial.
- B.This consists of reaching late, blaming others, visit by VIPs announcing a relief package including compensation for those affected and then forgetting all about it.
- C.The frequency of such calamities has injured us and deadened our collective sensitivity,
- D.We have witnessed several disasters in recent times, some natural others man made.
- E.but that doesn't reduce the enormity of the personal tragedy of each victim's family and community.
- F.The government whether State or central has standardized its response.

Answer:-

	Que 1	Que 2	Que 3	Que 4	Que 5	Que 6	Que 7	Que 8
Statement 1	C	B	B	E	F	C	C	D
Statement 2	B	D	D	C	A	E	F	C
Statement 3	E	A	A	A	E	A	D	E
Statement 4	F	F	F	F	D	F	A	A
Statement 5	A	E	C	B	B	D	B	F
Statement 6	D	C	E	D	C	B	E	B